

Program Conference Rethinking the Dynamics of Music and Nationalism, University of Amsterdam

26 September

Opening of Conference

Location: Vlaams Cultuurhuis De Brakke Grond, Nes 45, 1012 KD Amsterdam (close to Dam Square)

18.00: Arrival and Registration

19.00-22.00: First Keynote by prof. dr. Katharine Ellis, University of Cambridge: Nationalism, Ethnic Nationalism, and the Problem of French Folk Music, 1870-1941

Book Presentations

22.00-23.00: Drinks

27 September

Location: De Rode Hoed, Cultureel Centrum, Keizersgracht 102, 1015 CV Amsterdam

Room:	Vrijburgzaal	Banningzaal
09.00-10.00	Keynote: Graeme Skinner, Sydney Conservatorium of Music, University of Sydney: Australian Fugitive Pieces; National Romanticism, National Music, and Colonial Nationalism
10.00-10.30	Coffee/Tea
10.30-12.30	Panel: Music and Nationalism in the Far East meLê Yamomo, Freie Universität Berlin: A Dreamed Alliance? Or The First Tagalog Opera as an Exercise in Diplomatic Claim for Sovereignty Rachel Campbell, University of Sydney: The Transnational Sounds of Settler Society Nationalism: Peter Sculthorpe's "Truly Australian" Music. Shensi Yi, University of Sydney: Rivalry on another Front: The Musical, the Musician and the Parties in 1940s China. You-Kyung Cho, University of Tokyo: Transnationalism out of Nationalistic Musical Elements: To the Cultural Hybridity in Korean Contemporary Art Music.
12.30-14.00	Lunch
14.00-15.30	Panel: Anglophone Musical Nationalism around 1900 Matthew Riley, University of Birmingham: Popular and Canonical Nationalism in Edward Elgar's Choral Cantatas	Panel: Iberian Music and Nationalism Xavier Andreu Mirallas, Universitat de València: Between Exoticism, Nationalism and the 'Fear' of Popular Success. Spanish Music in the Romantic Era

	Ross Cole, University of Cambridge: 'The Natural Musical Idiom of a National Will'?: Vernacular Song and the Folkloric Imagination in England at the Fin de Siècle Ryan Weber, Misericordia University, Pennsylvania: Cosmopolitanism and Its Nationalist Discontents: Grainger and the fin-de-siècle Search for Belonging	Rui Magno Pinto, Universidade Nova de Lisboa: Symphonic Rhapsodies and Paraphrases as Tokens of Portuguese Musical Nationalism Isabel Pina, Universidade Nova de Lisboa: Viriato: A Nationalist Symphonic Poem by Luís de Freitas Branco (1890-1955)
15.30-16.00	Coffee/Tea
16.00-17.00	Panel: Music and Nationalism in The Americas Vera Wolkowicz, University of Cambridge: 'Nationalizing the Continent': National and Continental Discourses in Latin American Art Music at the beginnings of the Twentieth Century (1900-1930) Emily MacGregor, Harvard University: 'I don't get any kick out of so-called European modern composers...': Pan Americanism and Transnationalism in Aaron Copland's Short Symphony	Panel: Scottish Music and Nationalism Stuart Campbell, University of Glasgow: Musical Nationalism – Between Intention and Reception, Between Nation and State: The Case of Scotland Elizabeth Ford, University of Glasgow: Not Scottish Enough?: The Flute's Place in Scottish Music

20.00 Piano recital by Sara Crombach

Location: Still to be announced

28 September

Location: De Rode Hoed, Cultureel Centrum, Keizersgracht 102, 1015 CV Amsterdam

Room:	Vrijburgzaal	Banningzaal
09.00-10.00	Keynote: Douglas Shadle, Vanderbilt University: Dvořák and the Contests over American National Identity.
10.00-10.30	Coffee/Tea
10.30-12.30	Panel: Eastern-Mediterranean Music and Nationalism Anna Babali: Transnational folk music elements creating a Balkan musical landscape: the works for the piano of the Seven Balkan Dances, by Marko Tajcevic, the Shumen Miniatures, by Pancho Vladigerov and the Greek Dances, by Georgios Kasassoglou. Christina Michael, City, University of London: From Marginal to National: The Greek Art-Popular Tradition Artemis Ignatidou, Brunel University London: Music in 19th-century Greek nationalism	Panel: French Music Publishing Panel (4 papers): ‘Music Publishing and (Trans)Nationalism: the French Édition classique Durand (c. 1915–25) of Eighteenth- and Nineteenth-Century Piano Repertoire’ Rachel Moore, University of Oxford: Marketing National Identity: ‘French’ Editions and the Mobilisation of Music Publishing, 1914–1918 Deborah Mawer, Birmingham Conservatoire: Charting the Édition classique Durand (c. 1915–25): Musical Nationalism–Transnationalism Graham Sadler, Birmingham Conservatoire: Francophone Perspectives on an Eighteenth-Century French Musical Past Barbara Kelly, Royal Northern College of Music: Debussy’s French Accent on Chopin
12.30-13.30 N.B.!	Lunch
13.30-15.30	Panel: French-German Transnational Dynamics in Opera	Panel: Nationalism in Childrens’ Music Education (14.00-15.30)

	Kasper van Kooten, University of Amsterdam: “Blondes et rêveuses primes donnes” and “Allies from Abroad”; Tracing the Forgotten History of German-Language Opera Companies Abroad during the First Half of the Nineteenth Century Timothy Coombes, University of Oxford: Hänsel and Gretel’s ‘Popular’ Singing: How to Share the ‘Universal Folk’ Megan Varvir Coe, University of Texas, Arlington: Caught Between Aesthetics and Politics: French Nationalism in the Reception of Two Salome Operas in Pre-War Paris Amanda Hsieh, University of Toronto: The ‘German Debussy’? —Masculinity in Franz Schreker’s Die Gezeichneten	Sylvie Noreau, Université de Fribourg: Songbook for school in French-speaking Switzerland: Musical nationalism propaganda? Mårten Nehrfor, Stockholm University: Canonical considerations – Johann Friedrich Reichardt’s songs for children and the late eighteenth century German national community Mila Stojadinovic, Academy of Arts Novi Sad, New York: Creating National Identity: Primary School Music Textbooks in Yugoslav/post-Yugoslav Serbia
15.30-16.00	Coffee/Tea
16.00-17.00	Panel: Hungarian Music and Nationalism Krisztina Lajosi, University of Amsterdam: The Gypsy in Hungarian Music. Romantic Nationalism and Cultural Imagination Katharina Uhde, Valparaiso University: Rediscovering two lost Works: Joseph Joachim’s Hungarian and Irish Fantasies

19.00 Conference Dinner at Indonesian Restaurant Indrapura, Rembrandtplein 40-44, 1017 CV Amsterdam

29 September

Location: De Rode Hoed, Cultureel Centrum, Keizersgracht 102, 1015 CV Amsterdam

Room:	Vrijburgzaal	Banningzaal
09.00-10.00	Keynote: Bob van der Linden, Independent Scholar, Amsterdam: Music, Culture and Nationalism: India and Empire in Global History
10.00-10.30	Coffee/Tea
10.30-12.30	Panel: Music and Nationalism in India, Pakistan and Central Asia Shobna Nijhawan, York University Toronto: Music and the Nationalization of Hindu Culture in a Hindi literary periodical (1920s-1930s) Yousuf Saeed, Independent Scholar and Film Maker, Delhi: The Impact of the 1947 Partition on Classical Music in Pakistan Sara Crombach, University of Amsterdam: Zeyir Hajibeyov, Father of Azerbaijani Classical Music and his Contribution to National Identity within the Borders of Soviet Colonialism. Artemy Kalinovsky, University of Amsterdam: Opera as the Highest Stage of Socialism
12.30-14.00	Lunch
14.00-15.30	Panel: Music and Nationalism in Eastern-Europe Rutger Helmers, University of Amsterdam: Rethinking Russian Musical Nationalism through César Cui	Panel: Early Twentieth-Century Music and Nationalism Benedetta Zucconi, Universität Bern: Recorded Music, italianità, and the Appropriation of Culture for Nationalistic Purposes.

	Stephen Downes, Royal Holloway University of London: Longing to Belong: Nationalism and Sentimentalism in the Second Violin Concertos of Bartók and Szymanowski Claire McGinn, University of York: 'Who are the Balts to us?': 'Estonia's time' and Finno-Ugric modes of seeing in music by Veljo Tormis	Roberto Scoccimarro, Hochschule für Musik und Tanz Köln: Leone Sinigaglia's Activity as an Arranger and Composer of Folk Songs in the Context of Nationalist Culture in Italy, 1900-1914. Giles Masters, King's College London: 'Ich reise aus, meine Heimat zu entdecken': Remembering Schubert and Discovering Austria in Ernst Krenek's Reisebuch aus den österreichischen Alpen (1929)
--	--	--

16.00 Closing Drinks, location still to be announced